V - ON JOAN ROBINSON’S HONOUR

The Joan Robinson Prize in Economics. The Women’s College Claremont - Scripps College, Claremont, U.S.A. The Joan Robinson Prize in Economics is awarded annually for the best senior thesis in economics. It was established in memory of the most respected female economist in the history of the discipline. The prize is given by the economics faculty for the best senior thesis, judged on analytical and creative merit.

The Joan Robinson Prize for Contribution to College and Academic Merit. The Women’s College Chislehurst Society, The University of Queensland, Australia:

The Joan Robinson Society. Girton College, Cambridge UK. The Joan Robinson Society is organised and run by the undergraduate members. It is both a social and academic group, which acts to bring students from all years together regularly. There tend to be two meetings each term. Meetings usually involve a dinner with a guest speaker from outside the college. Recent speakers have included Lord John Eatwell (talking on the conditions for a successful single currency) and Dr Jane Humphries (talking about the life of Joan Robinson). (http://www.econ.cam.ac.uk/faculty/clawson/girt/p7.htm)

Joan Robinson Endowed Scholarship. Department of Economics, Denison University, Granville, Ohio, USA. The Joan Robinson Endowed Scholarship was established in 1986. It is awarded to junior or senior women furthering the free enterprise system. It is named for a pioneer woman economist who was active in the first half of the 20th century, at a time when the economics profession was overwhelmingly dominated by men. This scholarship is to be awarded to the junior or senior woman with financial need who best exemplifies the role of women in furthering the free enterprise system. Individual scholarship, campus activities, and career ambitions shall be considered as criteria for selection. Kathleen Ann O’Conner recieved this award in 2000.

The Joan Robinson Memorial Scholarship [http://iserver.saddleback.cc.ca.us/div/sbs/econ/robinson.htm]. Every year in May at the Saddleback College Scholarship Awards Ceremony the economics faculty awards a scholarship to a student who has demonstrated a love for the study of economics and a mastery of both macroeconomic and microeconomic theory. This scholarship is named in honor of Joan Robinson because of her many contributions to both macro and micro theory, her commitment to teaching and methodology, because of her wide-ranging intellect, her passion for economics, and her concern for the improvement of human life through the solution of economic problems.

Plaza of Heroines. Located in front of Catt Hall, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Ames, Iowa, the Plaza of Heroines contains more than 3,600 bricks with the names of women who, as role models, made an impact on families, communities, and society as mothers, teachers, wives, scientists, friends and activists. Joan Robinson´s brick Joan Robinson is in Brick Section G - Row 17 and has been donated by Alvin L. Marty, a former student at Cambridge for the two-year period 1949-1951. http://www.las.iastate.edu/kiosk/2543.shtml
